

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Propel Health Communications Launches Summer Internship Program

GLADSTONE, NJ—July 1, 2025—Propel Health Communications (PHC), a full-service marketing agency for the pharmaceutical industry, has commenced an 8-week summer internship program for college students, post-graduate students, and recent graduates.

Designed to offer real-world experience to aspiring marketers, the paid program has matched 6 interns with professional mentors in departments aligned with their interests, including Account Services, Project Management, and Creative (Art and Copywriting).

The 2025 summer interns, chosen from a competitive pool of applicants, include:

- Ella Sunshine, a recent graduate of New York University's master's degree program in social work. Ella is working with PHC's Account Services and Project Management teams
- Eleanor Sandman, an undergraduate at Boston College who is majoring in applied psychology and minoring in general business. Eleanor is assisting and learning from the Account Services and Project Management teams
- Ketana Anekar, an undergraduate at The New School's Parsons School of Design who is studying communication design. Ketana is interning with PHC's Creative Art team
- Nicolas Greiner-Guzman, an undergraduate at Syracuse University who is studying creative advertising and Spanish language and literature. Nicolas is also interning with the Creative Art department
- Lila Sunshine, an undergraduate at the University of Denver who is studying business. Lila is learning from and assisting the Copywriting side of the Creative department
- Jessica González Cordero, who is pursuing a master's degree in advertising from Boston University and earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Puerto Rico. Jessica is assigned to the Creative department, focused on Copywriting

"We're proud to help develop the next generation of marketers," said Lew Campanaro, managing director of Client Services and Delivery at PHC. "We have high expectations for this class of interns and will not only teach them new skills but will also invite them to contribute meaningfully to our work."

PHC is an all-virtual agency. As such, the interns will work remotely from where they reside.

PRESS RELEASE

About Propel Health Communications

Propel Health Communications (PHC) is a full-service promotional and medical communications agency with capabilities that include brand building, commercial strategy, medical strategy, promotional medical education, creative, customer experience, social media, and in-house logistics. PHC builds authentic engagement strategies that propel brands—and health—forward. Learn more at PropelHealthForward.com.

PHC is part of the Propel Health network, which includes: Propel Health Engagements, the industry-leading provider of speaker bureau solutions; Propel Health Medical Affairs, a medical communications agency that brings together strategy, scientific content, and innovation to transform clinical behaviors; and Propel Health Patient Experience, a trusted partner of the life sciences industry for authentic engagement with patients, caregivers, and advocacy groups to fuel brand success.

###